

XII Havana Course

Tropical and Travel Medicine 2016 (HCTTM12)

Havana, Cuba March 21-24, 2016

Organizer: Instituto de Medicina Tropical «Pedro Kouri» (IPK), Havana in collaboration with Medical Services for the Tropics (MST), Maastricht, The Netherlands.

Physicians (especially those working in general practice, occupational medicine, aviation, tropical medicine and and public health), pharmacists, microbiologists, nurses, and other health scientists.

Lectures by leading specialists (Cuban and others) and visit to hospitals, research laboratories, and community health centers. Laboratory training available on request in bacteriology and parasitology and an extra module in public health.

Official language: English. Medical education credits from Royal Dutch Society of Physicians (KNMG) & applied for Cuban authorities

Instituto de Medicina Tropical Pedro Kouri (IPK) was founded by Dr Pedro Kouri in 1937. When his son Dr.Gustavo Kourí took over as Director, this institute became a Center of Excellence in the field of tropical medicine and infectious disease. The late Professor Gustavo Kouri was instrumental in putting the Havana Course in Travel and Tropical Medicine on the International map. The present Director IPK Jorge Perez Avila and his staff have fortunately continued Professor Kouri's legacy.

Course Coordinator: Peter de Beer (Maastricht, The Netherlands)

International Faculty: Prof.Martin Grobusch(Amsterdam, The Netherlands) and Brad Connor (NYC, USA)

For further administration and registration: Secretariat PO Box 1660; 6201BR Maastricht, The Netherlands
